

Dr Liz Long's Charity Fundraiser

Dr Liz Long is planning to cycle a Very Long Way (AGAIN) to raise money for charity... this time for some very personal reasons. Having lost her Dad to prostate cancer in 2018, and also one of her Bruton Cycling Club team members being diagnosed with prostate cancer in 2018, aged just 48, she's hoping to raise lots of funds for Prostate Cancer UK.

She is currently in training for the Mallorca 312 bike event at the end of April 2019 – where she needs to cycle 312km (that's 194 miles) and over 5000 metres of climbing over the course, completing this challenge within 14 hours total to get her finishers place.

Would you consider sponsoring this mad crazy attempt by a mad crazy person, in the hope of changing the outcomes of those touched by Prostate Cancer.

Either speak to reception about a cash donation or visit the team fundraising page (she's cycling with team mates from Bruton Cycling Club). Many thanks.
